Zeus PRO Injection Molded Cases

Our heavy-duty, Zeus PRO line of Injection Molded Cases provide the same strong, light-weight physical protection as our Zeus line but with increased environmental and shielding isolation capabilities for protection from a wider range of electromagnetic threats. Our Zeus PRO line of shielded cases are ideal for safe transport of sensitive or critical electronics including tablets, laptops, communications equipment, sensors, or other computing systems. These lightweight and versatile solutions protect electronic equipment from both environmental and electromagnetic hazards, providing higher dB levels of attenuation in the range of 10MHz to 20GHz. Zeus PRO cases provide additional security with a reinforced locking mechanism and an internal flange for electronics integration. Currently available in the two sizes listed, our cases are also available in custom configurations.
